Lost Voices: Greek Jews and the Holocaust July 27 – August 29, 2016

[Seattle, WA]: On July 27, the Henry and Sandra Friedman Holocaust Center for Humanity opens the traveling exhibit, Lost Voices: Greek Jews and the Holocaust.

The exhibit Lost Voices: Greek Jews and the Holocaust offers a summary of Greek Jewish history, focusing on how the Holocaust affected the Jews of Salonika, as well as the communities of Ioannina and the islands of Rhodes and Corfu. The exhibit is on display in commemoration of the deportation of the Jews of Rhodes in July 1944.

Lost Voices, along with the Center's Core exhibit, With My Own Eyes, is on display at the Henry and Sandra Friedman Holocaust Center for Humanity on Wednesdays and Sundays from 10am to 4pm, through August 28. Entry is $10 per person, $5 for students, seniors, and military. Reservations can be made through the Center's website, www.HolocaustCenterSeattle.org.

ABOUT THE CENTER: Connecting lessons of the Holocaust to a broad range of relevant themes for our time, from bullying to social justice, the Holocaust Center for Humanity has been teaching students to become engaged citizens and to speak out against bigotry and prejudice since 1989. The Center works directly with teachers, students, and community groups across the Northwest to provide educational materials, curriculum, and interaction with local Holocaust survivors who tell their stories to 20,000 students of all ages each year. In October 2015, the Center opened its museum to the public. 15,000 visitors toured the Center's exhibits during the 2015-2016 school year.

The Center's mission is to inspire teaching and learning for humanity in the schools and communities of this region through study of the Holocaust. Find out more at HolocaustCenterSeattle.org.
