The Nazi regime persecuted groups of people based on anti-Semitic and racial ideology. Although Jews were the primary targets for systematic persecution, Nazi policies also led to the brutalization and persecution of Roma and Sinti (Gypsies), people with mental and physical disabilities, those of African descent, Poles, gay men, and Jehovah’s Witnesses.

In this workshop, teachers will explore Nazi ideology and how and why Nazi policy singled out these groups and how the racist belief system became encoded into law.
